Director's Message

The post pandemic period is witnessing sea changes all over the world. A major impact has been witnessed by the education field as like other domains. At MES IMCC (an NBA accredited and SPPU recognized Institution of MES), the focus is on continuous development by focusing on the adoption techniques in each and every section.

The IMCC Library and Information Resource Center has taken more focused efforts in providing the remote library services to match the user expectations since the last two years to keep pace with the time. . MES IMCC during A Y 2020-21 , successfully conducted the PGDLIMAN (One year Autonomous Post Graduate Diploma in Digital Library Automation and Networking) and SET NET Virtual Programme for the LIS Professionals (autonomous program of Library & Information Science) through the virtual mode and got a very good response from all over the Maharashtra State. The library staff also has stretched further to administer and coordinate the IGNOU Study Center of IMCC-16142 . The development of the library and the attitudinal focus of the Librarian are assisting the IMCC tremendously in yielding the excellent results. I wish InfoLibManager 2021 a grand success.

From the Institutional Librarian

The Post COVID period has thrown several challenges on the globe and organizations are trying their best to cope up with the situation. As far as the service industry is concerned, the sustainability issue is paramount and the major challenge is to maintain the service status for achieving the users' satisfaction. The libraries and information centers being a service industry of information equally trying to catch up with the situational needs of the users and providing the services through the effective utilization of the virtual media .

In developing countries like India, the educational institutions are gradually trying to use the offline mode of conduction along with the online. Even though the COVID pandemic changed the attitude of the students , faculty as far as utilization of e-resources is concerned. The needs of the users' towards more online resources has increased the utilization ratio of these resources of information in the COVID and Post COVID period

During the last academic year, the MES IMCC Library and Resource Center has increased the collection of e-resources focusing on Computer and Management Science and coping up with the virtual information needs of the user community . The remote library services specially increased e-resources accessibility , Library web opac , library e-orientation, e book review competitions are the major highlights of MES IMCC Library and Resource Center .

The Jaykar Library Knowledge Center membership , interactive sessions with the eminent LIS personalities with SLA Special Library Association Mc Lean Virginia USA , conduction of SET NET workshop, 9th batch Autonomous program PGDLIMAN of the institution for the LIS Professionals through the utilization of Google Classroom and Gmeet are the effective milestones of the academic year.

The service providers and the service seekers' hormonal relationship and the dedication towards the service provision are the major components of any service organization for getting the effective service results. From this year, Infolib Manager is switching over to e-mode of publication.

Best wishes,

Dr.Mrs Meenal Oak

Library Activities

Library Orientation through Virtual Platform

For the last 2 years, MES's IMCC Library and Information Center has been conducting the library orientation programs through a virtual platform Zoom for the students of all the programs of IMCC. A virtual session on e-orientation of library and information resource center conducted by Dr Mrs Meenal Oak for the A Y 2020-2021.

The virtual platform utilization has created a positive impact on the users attitude towards the effective accessibility and utilization of e-resources subscribed by the organization. An induction session included the orientation about the online paid and open database utilization, use of web opac, library webpage alongwith the other library activities such as e-book review etc.

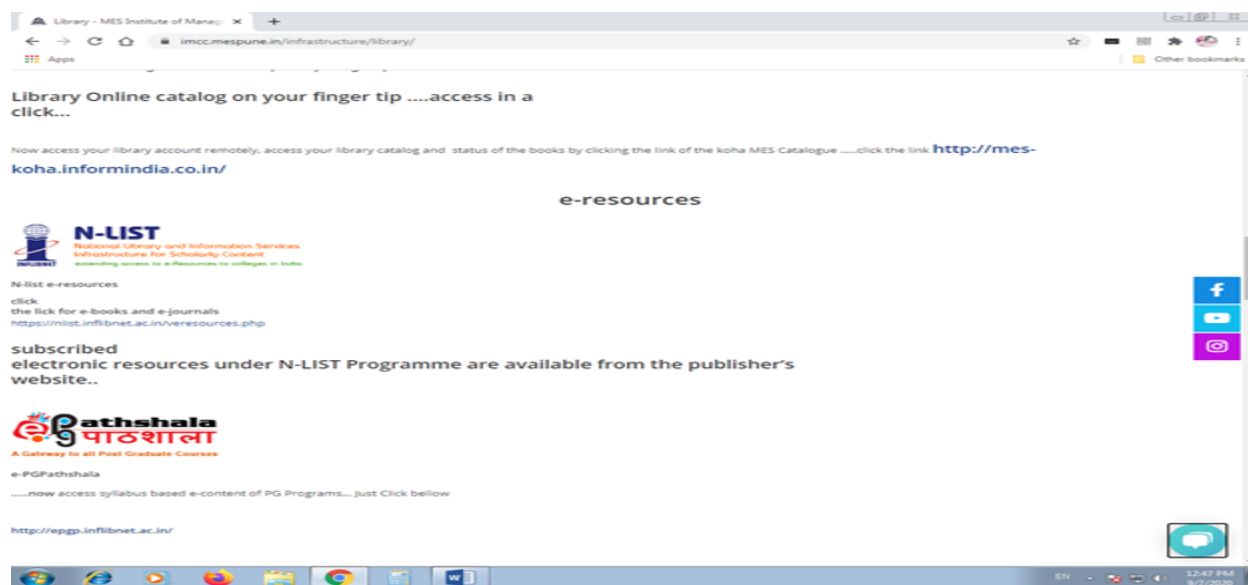

Best Practices

Effective access to Library e-resources through Webpage upgradation

The IMCC Library has undergone a major upgrade in the online service due to the impact of COVID Pandemic all over the globe. During the post Covid period, from last year the institutional library started purchasing additional e-books useful for the students and faculty, specially the World e-books database through the National Consortium and the local e-books as well.

It has yielded a very positive impact on the services and the user satisfaction. The service provision to the user segments focusly the research scholars , students and the faculty members of the organization has been focusly on through the login IDs and Passwords for more effective accessibility to the online resources.

The library webpage has been continuously upgraded on the institutional website to provide access to the e-books and e-journals through N-List and other paid resources including the recommended titles of textbooks.

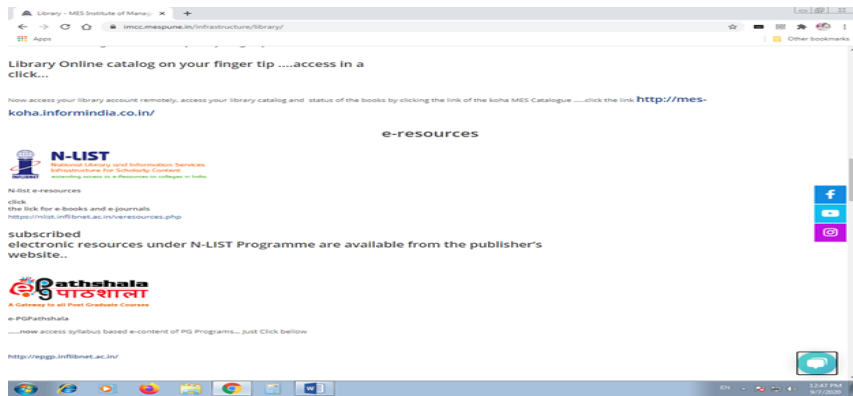

The provision of online membership to the students, faculty members and the research scholars is done through the library webpage for avoiding the physical visits during the post corona period. and document status also can be viewed through the library webpage of the institution.

The library web page provides information about the Global Status of COVID and the guidelines of required precautions of WHO (World Health Organization) alongwith the download links to Arogya Setu App,Government of India.
